TO PAY PENALTY FOR CERMAK'S DEATH

Courtroom After Sentence

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 10.—
Giuseppe Zangara, today was sentenced to death, on his plea of guilty to first degree murder for the shooting of Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, in an attempt to assassinate President Roosevelt.

Judge Uly O. Thompson decreed
the mad Italian bricklayer must die
in the electric chair at the Raiford
State prison but did not set the date.
Governor Dave Sholtz will name the date and hour of execution.

The Chicago mayor, shot down by Zangara in Bayfront Park February 15 during a welcoming celebration to President Roosevelt, succumbed to his wound March 6 after an amazing 19-day battle against a score of malignant maladies.

Shows No Emotion.

As the judge intoned the death sentence in slow, measured words, Zangara showed no trace of emotion, displaying the same air of nonchalance he has maintained since his arrest.

A slow smile spread over his swarthy countenance.

Zangara remained stolidly silent as sentence was pronounced but as his guards closed in and he was led from the courtroom he turned,
shouting:

"I'm scared. I kill all presidents."

"You crook, too—in with capitilist. You should die too."

The officers shoved him from the court, still screaming defiance, as the bailiff pounded for order.

Becomes Violent

Just before sentence was passed,
Judge Thompson asked if Zangara

Pennsylvania Banks Have Authority To Cash Payroll Checks

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Dr. William D. Gordon, secretary of banking, stated today that Pennsylvania banks have authority to cash payroll and other checks sufficient to provide funds for the necessities of life.

In extending this authority, the state banking department is complying with a ruling of Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin permitting national banks to take similar action.

"We are going along with the federal authorities," Gordon said.
"The problem of meeting emergencies is entirely up to the banks which can limit the amount of cash
they believe essential for the necessities of life."

The matter of cashing checks drawn on other institutions is entirely up to the individual bank,
Gordon explained.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—
Promptly utilizing the dictatorial powers vested in him by the emergency banking legislation passed through Congress, President Roosevelt has extended the bank holiday indefinitely—but with the expectation that all the sound banks of the country will be opened for normal functioning on Monday.

Some probably will open tomorrow.

The delay in opening was dictated by the necessity of separating the "sheep" from the "goats" in the banking situation; that is, determining which banks are sound enough to resume regular operations and which are in such a precarious state as to require reorganization in the interest of security to depositors.

Under the new legislation the President has wide powers to compel such reorganization.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—The

government costs follows:

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—
Moving in the same bold and direct manner that has marked his every act thus far, President Roosevelt was understood today to be in the final stages of a program for immediate unemployment relief on a virtual wartime basis.

He is perfecting a plan for vast internal improvements, it was reported, with the workmen being recruited from the unemployed and put on the job under semi-military supervision—with pay.

The army engineer corps would be in charge of the work and the labor recruiting would be done through the employment set-up of the Department of Labor.

Public works were said to be contemplated on a broad scale, together with immediate application of many of the basic principles of Mr. Roosevelt's intended Tennessee Valley experiment—such as reforestation, reclamation, elimination of marginal lands etc.—on a fairly national scope.

To Seek $500,000,000

An immediate bond issue of $500-000,000 is expected to be asked of congress by the executive to put his plan into effect as a starter. It may be he will ask for an emergency decision in a special mesfloatation unquestionably would fol-

his reorganization of the federal es-

decided to place all of the construc-

FORMER MAYOR WALKER IN SECLUSION

Divorce Action Surprises Jimmy

Reporters Flock To Home Of Actress Seeking To Find Walker

FORMER MAYOR TO CONTEST DIVORCE

(International News Service)
CANNES, France, Mar. 10.—"Don't you think that's a somewhat premature question?" Smilingly, Betty Compton thus parried inquiries today when asked whether she would marry former Mayor James J. Walker of New York if and when his present wife obtains the divorce she is seeking at Miami, Florida.

Walker In Seclusion.
An army of reporters flocked to the picturesque villa occupied by Miss Compton, a British actress, and her mother when Walker suddenly dropped from sight in an apparent effort to escape further questioning regarding the divorce action.

Miss Compton insisted she had no idea of Jimmy's whereabouts. "I haven't seen him since last night," she said. "I don't know where he is now."

Surprise Shown.
The actress declined to discuss Mrs. Walker's divorce suit. Last night Walker announced he would contest the action and expressed complete surprise to learn that the suit had been filed. He asked International News Service to keep him informed of all details and then went out to dinner with Miss Compton and her mother.

ZANGARA GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE BY JUDGE TODAY

"Everything just for money. Peoples no need money—need bread. Thata why I say burn money.
As he finished, a dead silence fell upon the courtroom.

Urges Firearms Law
Judge Thompson took up the gavel, but before sentencing the Italian to electrocution for his mad act, he briefly expressed the hope that the congress would immediately pass legislation banning small firearms.
"It is my firm conviction that congress should also pass legislation for confiscation of firearms that may be carried about the person," he said.

"Three president have been assassinated, all by men who employed a pocket pistol. It is a deadly and useful weapon; deadly in the hands of an assassin and useless as a weapon of defense by the good people.

"We are horrified to think of the consequences of this man's act. It was well calculated to affect the peace of America, if not the entire world."

Cermak Laid To Rest
Judge Thompson paused a moment, then in slow, measured tones, sentenced Zangara to death in the electric chair.

By strange coincidence, death was meted out to the assassin just a few

Spectators surged forward and crowded about Judge Thompson, congratulating him on his sentence of death, a few moments after Zangara, shouting defiantly, was pushed back to his cell on his 19th floor of the Dade county jail where he must remain until a week before the date, yet to be set, of his execution.
He will then be taken to the State penitentiary at Raiford.

ROOSEVELT ASKS SWEEPING POWER TO CUT EXPENSES

the recent collapse of our banking structure.
Must Maintain Credit
"It has accentuated the stagnation of the economic life of our people," he continued. "It has added to the ranks of the unemployed.
"Upon the unimpaired credit of the U. S. government rests the safety of deposits, the security of insurance policies, the activity of industrial enterprises, the value of agricultural products and the availability of employment.
"National recovery depends upon it."
"It is too late for a leisurely approach to this problem. We must not wait to act several months hence."

To Cut Veterans Funds
Literally, the president asked that the matter of veterans compensation and of federal salaries be removed from congressional treatment and reposed in himself as the executive.
"The proper legislative function," he said, "is to fix the amount of expenditure, the means by which it is to be raised, and the general principles under which the expenditures are to be made."
"The details of expenditure, particularly in view of the great present emergency, can be more wisely and adequately administered through the executive."

Justice To All
"When a great danger threatens our basic security it is my duty to advise the congress of the way to preserve it.
"If congress chooses to vest me with this responsibility it will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all."
The president said the urgency was so great to wait until the beginning of the new fiscal year, next June 30. He proposed, if congress arms him with the powers to start slashing immediately.

If congress does grant his request, he said, "I give you assurance... There is reasonable prospect that within a year the hands of the government will be sufficient to cover the expenditure of the government."

Bill To Be Presented
The president did not go into details of his legislative proposals in his message. These were contained in the bill itself, which was prepared for introduction simultaneously with the delivery of the message.

The bill was not quite ready for introduction, however, and the message was read, and Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, obtained a recess of the senate until noon tomorrow, with permission to introduce the measure later in the day.

Continuing to act with unprecedented speed, the house immediately authorized the appointment of a special economy committee to present the legislation embracing the president's proposals.

Under the resolution, presented by Rep. Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic leader, immediately after the president's message was read, Speaker Rainey will appoint five members. Rainey said he would appoint the committee during the day.

Some Hostility Seen
Although the president's message was vigorously applauded, there were indications of hostility in the house to slashing salaries and veterans benefits.

Rep. Rankin (D) of Mississippi, chairman of the World War veterans committee, announced he would fight any proposal to make the disabled veterans the goats in this depression.

His statement was vigorously applauded.
Rep. Woodrum (D) of Virginia, broke in with a proposal that the Democrats hold a caucus on the legislation and Byrns said a caucus in all probability would be held.

"After all the American people are looking to President Roosevelt and the Democrats of the house for leadership," said Woodrum. "I propose that we take the whole matter into a party caucus and settle it."

Woodrum received applause equal to that given Rankin's statement. Byrns told the house the special economy committee should be created instead of sending the proposed legislation to the veterans committee because more than one subject was involved.

Rankin demanded to know whether the legislation would be considered under rules permitting amendment or whether "gag" rules would be employed.

"A majority will have the right to control the legislation," replied Byrns.

"I am just as anxious to assist the president as anyone but the disabled veterans have been subjected to unfair attacks in the press and elsewhere and they should not be made the goats of this depression," said Rankin as many members broke into applause.

"And they are not going to be made the goats," he added.
Rankin told the house it was entering into a "deep subject" in attempting to reduce veterans benefits.

He demanded that the economy committee be enlarged to 15 or 20 members, that hearings be held, and that the house be given time to consider the legislation.

This procedure would defeat the president's proposal that he be given the power immediately.

Calls Committee
Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, called a meeting of the finance committee to meet at 3 p. m. to consider the legislation.

The first senate vote of opposition was sounded by Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana, militant friend of the ex-soldier. He declared "America wants no dictator."

"I am surprised and not a little concerned at the apparent desire of President Roosevelt to have congress grant him dictatorial powers," said the Indiana senator. "America wants no dictator and efforts in this direction put forth by anybody should not only be frowned upon but should be promptly squelched."

Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, Republican leader of the senate, said:
"The president's proposal for economy is the most drastic ever sent to congress. The claim for additional power has received a ready response from Democratic members of congress and probably will not be opposed by the Republicans. It represents a sincere effort to balance the budget."

Senator Ashurst (D) of Arizona, said: "It is an hour of national peril and approaching disaster. We must all stand firmly for the policies advocated by the president who is our leader. This is no time to delay, to doubt or to falter. The conditions are as serious as war and we must follow the flag."

Member Of Bavarian Reichsbanner Shot Down Is Reported

Man Resisting Arrest After Orders By New Commissar Is Shot To Death

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Mar. 10.—A member of the Republican Reichsbanner faction was shot and killed resisting arrest today as General Franz Von Epp, new federal commissar for Bavaria, carried the government's campaign against dissidents into that state.

General Von Epp, appointed by Chancellor Adolf Hitler, ordered the arrest of all Reichsbanner officials in Bavaria as well as all communist leaders.

At 3 p. m., 160 Reichsbannermen and communists had been taken into custody. Bavarian police carried out a series of sweeping raids at Von Epp's order.

Depression Blamed In Domestic Cases
The application, however, of this great principle to large numbers of people involves complications—so great that it is almost impossible to draw legislation with sufficient flexibility to provide substantial justice in varying situations. The proposed legislation states the principles and, limited by them, permits the executive to draw the lines of differentiation necessary to justice.

In accordance with the same purpose of substantial justice I request also the enactment of legislation relative to the salaries of civil and military employees of the government. This would repeal the existing furlough plan, substituting therefor a general principle and authorizing the executive to make application of this principle. The proper legislative function is to fix the amount of expenditure, the means by which it is to be raised and the general principles under which the expenditures are to be made. The details of expenditure particularly in view of the great present emergency can be more wisely and equitably administered through the executive. The flexibility of the measures which I am proposing is not practical but proceeds along the road of constitutional government.

Such economies which can be made will, it is true, affect some of our citizens; but the failure to make them will affect all of our citizens. The very stability of our government itself is concerned and when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all.

When a great danger threatens our basic security it is my duty to advise the congress of the way to preserve it. In so doing I must be fair not only to the few but to the many. It is in this spirit that I appeal to you. If the congress chooses to vest me with this responsibility it will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all, of sympathy to those who are in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States.

I ask that this legislation go into effect at once without even waiting for the beginning of the next fiscal year. I give you assurance that if this is done there is reasonable prospect that within a year the income of the government will be sufficient to cover the expenditures of the government. (Signed)
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

WESTERN FARMERS TO CUT DOWN PLANTINGS
(International News Service)
PORT COLLINS, Colo.—Winter wheat producers of Colorado and the entire Great Plains region have reduced their farming operations according to T. H. Summers, extension economist for the Colorado Agricultural college. Summers said acreage seeded throughout the region was four per cent less than a year ago, and in Colorado 28 per cent less.

Low wheat prices, lack of funds and lack of moisture brought about the reduction.

our agricultural products and availability of employment. The credit of the United States government definitely affects these fundamental human values. It, therefore, becomes our first concern to make secure the foundation. National recovery depends upon it.

Too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on rocks of loose fiscal policy. We must avoid this danger.

It is too late for a leisurely approach to this problem. We must not wait to act several months hence. The emergency is accentuated by the necessity of meeting great refunding operations this spring. We must move with a direct and resolute purpose now. The members of the congress and I are pledged to immediate action.

I am, therefore, assuming that you and I are in complete agreement as to the urgent necessity, and by constitutional duty is to advise you as to the methods for obtaining drastic retrenchment at this time.

I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road.

The last congress enacted legislation relating to the reorganization and elimination of executive agencies, but the economies thus to be effected are small when viewed in the light of the great deficit for the next fiscal year. They will not meet the pressing needs of our credit situation. Provision for additional savings is essential, and therefore I am asking the congress today for new legislation laying down broad principles for the granting of pensions and other veteran benefits, and giving to the executive the authority to preserve the administrative details.

We are unanimous in upholding the duty of the government to care for those who suffer in its defense and for their widows and orphans.

The application, however, of this great principle to large numbers of people involves complications—so great that it is almost impossible to draw legislation with sufficient flexibility to provide substantial justice in varying situations. The proposed legislation states the principles and, limited by them, permits the executive to draw the lines of differentiation necessary to justice.

The proper legislative function is to fix the amount of expenditure, the means by which it is to be raised and the general principles under which the expenditures are to be made. The details of expenditure particularly in view of the great present emergency can be more wisely and equitably administered through the executive. The flexibility of the measures which I am proposing is not practical but proceeds along the road of constitutional government.

Such economies which can be made will, it is true, affect some of our citizens; but the failure to make them will affect all of our citizens. The very stability of our government itself is concerned and when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all.

When a great danger threatens our basic security it is my duty to advise the congress of the way to preserve it. In so doing I must be fair not only to the few but to the many. It is in this spirit that I appeal to you. If the congress chooses to vest me with this responsibility it will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all, of sympathy to those who are in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States.

I ask that this legislation go into effect at once without even waiting for the beginning of the next fiscal year. I give you assurance that if this is done there is reasonable prospect that within a year the income of the government will be sufficient to cover the expenditures of the government. (Signed)
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

UNION TOWNSHIP HOME DESTROYED
but was saved from destruction through the efforts of a bucket brigade hastily formed by neighbors.

A call for assistance was sent to city firemen, but by the time they had received the report, the home was past saving, and in view of the fact that the residence was located outside the city limits, it was deemed inadvisable to send any of the departments to the scene.

The home was one of the best in that neighborhood, a six-room frame structure, neighbors stated. It was not learned whether insurance was carried by Mr. Gorgacz, or not.

DOES RHEUMATIC AGONY DRIVE YOU CRAZY?
You cannot hope to get lasting relief from cruel, crippling rheumatic aches and pains if you are a slave to laxative drugs.

Medical authorities make no secret of the fact that often sluggish bowels contribute the poisons and acid conditions which result in painful, swollen, inflamed limbs and joints. You must stop these poisons at the source.

The Cream of Nujol treatment does this at a cost of only a few cents a day. Doctors specially recommend this new form of Nujol treatment for those suffering from rheumatic conditions. Cream of Nujol lubricates laxative-dried bowels, gives them new elasticity and activity, so that poisonous wastes are thrown off daily by natural peristaltic action. The new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment will make you regular as clockwork and will not interfere with your work or your play. Moreover, it is delicious and easy to take. Get Cream of Nujol tonight at any drug counter.

EXPECT BANKS TO BE OPEN MONDAY

engaged today in the business of such classification.

Invitation Issued to Banks
An invitation to banks to make application to reopen was issued this morning by Secretary of the Treasury Woodin. Returning to the treasury from the White House, where he witnessed the signing of the new proclamation by President Roosevelt extending the holiday, and, incidentally, the gold embargo, Woodin said:

"The emergency banking legislation passed by the Congress Thursday is a most constructive step toward the solution of the financial and banking difficulties which have confronted the country."

"The extraordinary rapidity with which this legislation was enacted by the Congress heartens the country."

"This legislation makes possible the opening of banks upon a sound basis backed by an adequate supply of currency. Through this law the banks which will open will be placed in a position to meet all demands. This assurance should restore confidence and create the foundation for a forward movement in business activities."

Permit Rapid Opening
"It will be the policy of the treasury to permit as rapidly as possible the opening of sound banks. There are, of course, many thousands of such banks which will promptly be restored to the performance of their normal functions."

"The treasury has already taken steps to secure information through proper authorities as to the condition of the various banks of the country, and immediately invites from the banks the applications for reopening."

"While much information has already been assembled, the completion of the information and of the arrangements of the banks for resuming their functions takes some time. It has therefore been decided to authorize any reopening before Saturday. Monday morning will be possible to act upon all of the applications even by Saturday. Regulations governing reopenings and also other subjects governed by the legislation will immediately be published."

PRESIDENT WILL PRESS PROGRAM FOR EMPLOYMENT
possesses the broad powers to do this.

Apparently, the president is preparing to inject the government itself into an emergency improvement program, eliminating the private contractors and undertaking all work just as in a state of war.

Enlist Unemployed
Thus, two departments would be concerned primarily—the labor department, through which the recruiting of labor would be done, and the war department, which would boss the job. The unemployed would be enlisted for a definite period under prescribed restrictions.

Secondarily, the departments of interior and agriculture come into the picture, reforestation, reclamation, etc., being under their jurisdiction. Secretary of War Dorn, Secretary of Interior Ickes and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace conferred with the president yesterday.

The White House refused to comment on the situation, but Mr. Roosevelt significantly said in his inaugural address:

"Our greatest problem is to put people back to work. This is no unsolvable problem if we face it wisely and courageously. It can be accomplished in part by direct recruiting by the government itself, treating the task as we would the emergency of war, but at the same time, through this employment, accomplishing greatly needed projects to stimulate and reorganize the use of our national resources."

An effective check on vanity of one's accomplishments is to look and note how little has been accomplished.

NOW IS TIME TO BUILD OR REPAIR

Plenty has been said about the orgy of building which took place during the boom years providing more dwellings than there was any need for. But now that several years have passed, this overproduction has been well averaged down.

A few years ago we were building several hundred thousand homes a year—undoubtedly too many. But last year we built only about 50,000. Thousands of these newer homes, as well as millions of older ones, have been allowed to deteriorate to the point of needing extensive repair or replacement.

There never was a better time to do either, than now. Lumber, cement and other basic materials are selling at rock-bottom prices. So are electrical and plumbing and roofing supplies. There is an abundance of labor, skilled and unskilled. The citizen who builds a home today, or repairs the old one, not only obtains a bargain but strikes a blow at depression. Money spent for construction and maintenance of property covers a wide area and alights in many pockets. It has a powerful stimulating effect on the national purchasing power.

If you're able to build a home and need one, do it now. If you aren't, you can probably spend a few dollars or a few hundred dollars on repairs and replacements. You'll save money, and you'll be doing your bit in the greatest war of modern times—the war against unemployment and distress.

Investment and employment are cheaper than charity.

PARTY REGULARITY

The long life of political parties and devotion to them, sometimes running through two or three generations of a family, tend to obscure their real nature and purpose. People come to think of them as a kind of sacred and self-justifying institution. They are not that. A political party is merely an agency, a means to an end. It is a convenient and established way of getting things done, or of preventing evils from being inflicted upon the public. It has, of course, its traditions, its principles, its chief characteristics, but all these ought to be subordinated to its usefulness. If it ceases to serve its members, it is like salt that has lost its savor and is fit only to be cast out and trodden under foot.

There have been two major parties since the first administration at Washington because public opinion was divided. The parties were symbols of the two trends in public opinion. Where new parties have sprung up, it has always been because groups of voters found that they could no longer express themselves through the established parties.

While party regularity can be a virtue, it is not a vice to break away from one's party when its candidates or platform are at variance with one's wishes. Prohibition has caused more bolting than any issue in decades, and no one criticizes the wets and dries for concentrating their forces irrespective of party. That is about the only way the voter has of expressing himself on legislation and governmental policy.

CHANGE IS DEMANDED

That unsound business methods were a contributing factor to the depression most close students of the latter agree. It logically follows that a return of normal conditions must be preceded by the reestablishment of sound management in industry.

Recognition of this was given by Richard Whitney, president of the New York stock exchange, in an address before the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. An urgent need of the present, he said, is for the publication by corporations of more informative and frank data concerning earnings and conditions of operation.

Investors, he said, are becoming more wary. They are "insisting upon more complete and accurate financial statements from publicly-owned companies, and I am sure that the directors and officials of these corporations, realizing the reasonableness of this demand, will furnish investors with adequate information."

During the boom years, he said, "the lack of complete disclosure of the results of business operations contributed to the inflation of security values." Instead of frankly disclosing their condition, some concerns used accounting methods which "resulted in an overstatement of income."

"Practices of this kind were condemned by the exchange head. The demand for their abolition represents a move in the right direction and one to which corporations will have to respond if they wish to regain public confidence."

PURCHASING AGENT

Who does the buying for the Great American Home? Twenty-nine million housewives do 85 per cent of it.

This raises the question whether the household budget is better directed now than in the old days when wives and mothers were protected from the snares and pitfalls of commerce. And who is better prepared to answer it than the corporations which lend money to balance the family budget?

One such corporation doing business in many communities finds that the husband who turns over his pay check and leaves buying and paying of bills to his wife is freer from debt worries, gets into fewer financial jams and is more prosperous than other men.

How are these conclusions to be reconciled with woman's traditional reputation of extravagance? This the finance company also answers. The wife who is kept in ignorance of the family's financial condition has brought this calamity upon her sex through no fault of her own. To spend and spend and spend is human.

Household management is too big a job for the man who is away all day to perform efficiently in his leisure hours. The average housewife enters into more financial transactions in a day than her grandfather did in his small business.

HOW MANY WORDS IN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE?

To those lexicographers who estimate the number of words in the English language as from one to three million is opposed the assertion of Professor Ramsay of the University of Missouri that the total can not be over 250,000 and that 50,000 of these are obsolete. The layman will probably feel that the lower number is the more plausible. No English dictionary, we are told contains as many as 250,000 entries of all kinds. Even the great Oxford dictionary records less than that number.

Probably a definition of "word" is needed to settle the controversy. A rapid growth in technical terms has been obvious in recent years; but that all belong to the vocabulary of English-speaking people must be doubted. Many would exclude the local idioms and slang which some lexicographers accept as authentic.

THREES IN A ROW

Some words stand alone. Words like Courage. Or Patience. Or Joy. Or Peace.

Athers have partners. Like Ham and Eggs. Black and White. Adam and Eve. Stick and Stones.

But others go by threes; and I can think of a lot of them.

There's Three on a Match. There's Sun, Moon and Stars. And Three Strikes and You're Out.

Also, Three Musketeers. Red, White and Blue. Faith, Hope and Charity.

And Hook, Line and Sinker. Morning, Noon and Night. Tom, Dick and Harry.

On Your Mark, Get Set; and Go. Lock, Stock and Barrel. Butter and Eggs and a Pound of Cheese.

Vim, Vigor and Vitality.

Three Little Girls in Blue. Wynken and Blyndyn and Nod. The Third Time's the Charm.

Wine, Women and Song. Eating and Drinking and Sleeping. Fire, Murder and Sudden Death.

Little boys walking along the street frequently count posts in threes.

Some newspapermen think that big news stories come by threes. If two of them emerge from the week's news in a week, they wait in implicit confidence for the third to arrive.

Can you think of any more groups of threes? When I started I thought I could make a list of at least 50, but a north wind is blowing and I've come to the end of my memory. What do you remember (as though it made any difference)?

P. S.—I've just thought of another. It's Rats and Cats and Puppy Dogs' Tails.

PEOPLE WHO "KNOW MORE"

It is a well known fact that the majority of persons prone to give advice are just likely to proceed according to their own directions.

No matter how experienced or expert a man may be in doing a certain thing in a public way there are always those who insist they could do better.

In a crowd, perhaps watching a crane operate, there will be those who will ridicule the manner in which the work is done.

In all kinds of establishments there are sure to be men who think they know more than the boss and don't hesitate to say so to the others.

No matter how successful the foreman or the superior, many of the methods he insists upon having followed are alluded to as far inferior to other ways of procedure.

And that is one of the reasons why men, and women too, do not advance faster in the places where they are employed—their reluctance to carry out to the letter the suggestions given them by those above them.

Often the one who gives orders lets a piece of work go through because it would take too long to give additional instruction.

But he does not forget such occasions.

And when he finds a man that takes orders with alacrity he knows whom to advance when the time comes.

Arms Embargo Impresses Americans As Big Problem

British Action Believed To Indicate Desire Of That Nation To Maintain Neutral Position, While Americans Look Upon Situation As Dilemma

The placing of an embargo on arms shipments to the Orient, in which Great Britain has taken the lead, is looked upon in this country as a real problem, because the Chinese are in need of arms for defense, while it is maintained that the Japanese are already well supplied, and shipments to China alone are viewed in line with an act of war.

Nothing Congressional sentiment "against hasty action in this country," the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION says of the situation. "If an arms embargo were imposed against Japan, the Japanese would be likely to retaliate with a blockade of the principal Chinese ports. What would the powers do then? Are they willing to apply coercion, either economic or military? Could they avoid regarding such a measure as an act of war? Could they avoid taking genuine measures to combat it? The future of the League and the United States in the Far East ought not to be hastily determined. Too much is at stake."

"Premier MacDonald's government," records the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, "is determined that Britain shall not be drawn into this Japanese-Chinese conflict. Arms on the way to China could easily be seized by Japan. If they were in British bottoms then the trouble England wishes to avoid might be on her hands. It is a point worth looking at. At any rate, we are behind the other major arms and munitions making nations of the world in this important step of declining to help along the war business in China and in South America. Let Congress act at once and give the President power to stop the shipment of arms to countries whose belligerence we have already expressed disapproval."

"The British move," as understood by the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN, "involves the assumption that Japanese cruisers would not hold up and search, or take into Japanese ports, any British vessels whatever simply because of the British ban on exports of war material. This explanation is consistent with Sir John Simon's unqualified announcement that Great Britain will keep out of the Sino-Japanese conflict under any conceivable circumstances. All that need be said from an American viewpoint is that, whatever attitude may here be taken concerning an embargo on arms, the United States would be idiotic or crazy to permit itself to be drawn into the oriental war, with Great Britain grimly resolved to hold a detached position."

Condemning "the flow of munitions from neutral nations into the flames and ferocity that the Japanese war maniacs are thrusting upon the Eastern world," the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL asks: "When will this civilization put humanity above dollars? When will our own country put human life above profits?" The OAKLAND TRIBUNE makes the comment on the embargo: "A policy of the kind in a day when trade is sorely needed is one calling upon courage and resolution and there will be a hope that the example set will have the desired effect upon the attitudes of the other powers." Commendation by the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT for the embargo idea is given in the statement: "England has acted alone. Unless other Powers join her, the embargo will have little effect upon the supply of war materials reaching the combatants from outside their own territories. But there is the possibility that through the League of Nations with the cooperation of the United States and Russia, there will be a world-wide embargo. Beginning with a ban upon arms, explosives and aircraft, it might be extended to include a wide range of raw materials as well as finished products. Under such a condition, if the Chinese could hold out long enough, Japan might fare the worse."

"It is not easy to figure," according to the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, "how the extension of the embargo to China can be other than harmful to that country, in whose behalf the League of Nations has been striving so long to exercise its good offices." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS sees "manifest injustice in making no distinction between such unequal combatants," and believes that "Americans generally do not favor a policy that would penalize the injured party and merely annoy the aggressor." The YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR suggests: "To avoid seizure of British merchant vessels, with the attendant risk of bringing Britain into war, is the explanation of why there are to be no arms exports from Britain to China, and so there can be none to Japan. With this precedent, the way to be pursued by our own country will be clearer."

"Britain's embargo," in the judgment of the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, "can do nothing to aid world peace, and it may do much harm." The LEXINGTON LEADER advises American officials that "to place an embargo on arms means to deprive the Chinese of the means of self-defense without injuring Japan." The FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM concludes: "The sort of an embargo proposed by Great Britain and France in the present instance can be of no value in curbing Japanese aggression in Manchuria. To be effective, the embargo would need to be directed against Japan alone, leaving China free to purchase arms and munitions from Europe and America. Such an embargo, however, would inevitably lead to seizure of some shipments by Japanese naval vessels, and thereby produce an act of war which could not be ignored by the nations concerned. Unless the western nations are ready to embark on a course which inevitably must lead to war, an embargo exclusively against Japan should not be laid, and if this measure is not to be taken there is no real occasion for any less drastic action."

NOT SO WORSE

The wealthiest town in the United States, on a per capita basis is said to be Taft, California, an oil town, of 3,413 population, with total bank deposits of $6,000,000 or approximately $2,000 for every man, woman and child on the townsite.

The monthly payroll from the oil fields is $1,500,000. There are one and one-half automobiles registered from the town for every individual.

The city filed more income tax returns last year than any other city of its size in the United States.

Thirty-one hundred oil wells of 1,800 are now on a production basis, provided this wealth.

Perhaps there is some other place more prosperous, but where is it? What is the name, please?

Returning by motor from California, after a vacation sojourn of several weeks, Charles Crowl, Colonial hotel, and Norman Lockhart, East Leasure avenue, arrived at their homes here a short time after midnight last night.

The travelers reported they made their homeward trip "on almost nothing," since banking developments of the past week left them stranded with only a meager amount of cash. The banking holiday brought them east earlier than they had planned.

Both Crowl and Lockhart came home convinced that Californians are "just learning that a depression does exist." They said the Hollywood movie colony is greatly affected.

Wage Cut Plan Is Opposed By Laboring Group

Proposed Salary Cutting The Movie Stars Draws Ire Of 28 Labor Groups

DIRECTORS GIVE OUT SALARY PLAN

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Mar. 10.—A resolution opposing the general wage reduction plan proposed by motion picture companies was under adoption today by representatives of 28 labor groups.

Producers had declared a 50 per cent salary reduction for all employees earning more than $50 a week would be necessary for eight weeks in order to avoid a complete shutdown of studios.

When the labor resolution of opposition to companies' proposals was adopted delegates were present from the carpenters, electricians, musicians, stage hands, and 24 smaller groups.

Establish Committee.
The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences moved to establish a fact finding committee to serve during the eight weeks' period.

Neither the film writers group nor the directors approved entirely the producers' proposal.

Directors voted to donate their entire salaries for four weeks in preference to modification of their existing contracts by accepting salary slashes for eight weeks.

The writers withheld formal approval of the general wage cut plan.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Seventh Ward Has Blinding Storm Of Own This Morning

Mahoningtown had a terrific snow storm for an hour this morning in which northern New Castle had no part. The blizzard swept the ward at about 6:30 o'clock this morning and until 7:30 or 7:45 it was difficult to see more than 15 yards away. Automobiles drove at a slow speed and many had their lights aglow during the period.

The condition was peculiar since the storm seemed confined to this part of the city. Northern New Castle had a heavy wind but no heavy snowfall.

Story Hour Will Be Conducted At Mahoning Library

Mrs. Gladys Johnston, branch librarian, announces that on Wednesday afternoon, March 15, a St. Patrick Day story hour will be conducted in the Mahoning branch library for the boys and girls of seventh ward.

Stories will be told by Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian commencing at 4 o'clock. All children of the ward are welcome to attend.

Woodin Issues New Regulation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Under authority of the President's proclamation declaring a bank holiday, Secretary of the Treasury Woodin early today issued the following regulation:

"All banking institutions are hereby authorized to take such steps and carry through such transactions as may be necessary to complete for their own account, or the account of their customers, payment on any subscriptions for treasury bills of the United States for which payment was due on March 6, 1933." The treasury on March 6 sold $75,000,000 in 90-day bills to take care of other maturing obligations, and this order simply permits the bankers who bought them to complete the transaction.

epoch-making offer
to the children
of the community

Rich or poor, with or without musical instruments in the home, at practically no cost for tuition, and for the purpose of demonstrating a new, different and unique method of child culture, Mr. Patterson offers a ten (10) weeks course to the first one hundred (100) children, 5 to 8 years of age, whose parents make application tomorrow afternoon, between 3 and 5 o'clock at the Patterson Studios, 114 North Mercer St., New Castle, Pa.

OUTLINE OF COURSE

The average child begins with a serious handicap of cheap, inferior instruction, a cheap and out-of-tune piano, and an entirely wrong conception of true, beautiful music. In this course, he will be given the most expert and scientific instruction in both singing and piano playing. He will play on his own little individual piano of lovely tone quality, making it unnecessary to use the home in-physical culture, rhythmic training, dances, plays, exercises, games, songs, stories, etc., which have been devised by the best European and American authorities. These stimulate enthusiasm and eagerness to learn, and build good health and right thought habits.

McAdoo Makes New Proposal

Startling Measure For Depositors' Indemnification Is Urged

OTHER BILLS SEEK TO GIVE GUARANTEE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—A startling proposal for indemnification of depositors in member banks of the federal reserve system was made today by Senator William Gibbs McAdoo (D) of California, a former secretary of the treasury, in a bill introduced in the senate.

McAdoo would include other non-member banks in the plan in event they complied with requirements to be prescribed by the federal reserve board.

The bill would establish a "depositors' indemnity fund," which would be used to pay depositors promptly when member banks failed or suspended. It was referred to the senate banking and currency committee.

McAdoo's bill was one of three introduced for the relief of the banking situation. Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan reintroduced his bill providing for a guarantee of the deposits in national and state banks. It would set up conditions under which the federal government would guarantee the time deposits.

Senator Dill (R) of Washington also reintroduced his measure, calling for opening of checking accounts in the postal savings banks. These institutions, run as a part of the postoffice department, operate now solely for savings accounts. Dill proposed they be allowed to accept checking accounts up to $5,000.

The indemnity fund proposed by McAdoo would be managed by the federal board. It could consist of "assessments levied against member banks in proportion to their deposits payable in such installments and at such times as the Federal Reserve board shall deem advisable until the amount of such fund shall equal one per centum of the deposits of the member banks of the federal reserve system." Thereafter, if it were necessary to increase the fund, the member banks would pay additional levies until the fund was maintained at one per cent of all deposits in the member banks.

PAIR SEEKS GOLD ON FLOOR OF PACIFIC

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore.—Gold on the ocean floor of southern Oregon's coast line is the dream of a new gold source following the visit of two San Francisco men who used a small gas engine and air compressor to pump sand through a long tube from the ocean bottom.

Investigators reported the sand was rich in "colors." The operators of the strange device returned to California without reporting their success.

Southern Oregon beaches have been worked extensively for gold and many believe the ocean bottom would yield a good supply of the valuable metal.

Public Watches As Y. W. Greets 'New Americans'

Proud natives of a host of foreign lands stood side by side in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium last night and in one harmonious chorus sang, "America," pledged a firm allegiance to Old Glory and unitedly walked out after the ceremonies to take their place as American citizens—they'd officially become citizens months before, but the impressive public recognition exercises made them feel their place more patriotically.

Attended by the general public, the program marked another of the annual recognition assemblies which the Y sponsors for those who have just assumed their American citizenship.

While a large class—63 in number—was admitted to the rights of citizenship here in 1932, the exercises last night were shared only by 11 of them. It was impossible to reach the others.

The Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church, opened the annual service with the invocation, following which "America, the Beautiful" was sung by the audience with Mrs. W. J. Caldwell leading. To instill international color into the program, a cast of players from the local Business and Professional Women's club presented a pageant, entitled, "The World Court and Yours." It unfolded a model of the world court in session.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the Y. W. C. A. board, was seated on the platform, as was Dr. John Coleman, Geneva college professor, who directed a welcome message to the new citizens in a manner highly appropriate. He sketched the American traditions and urged the new class to be proud of their adopted land.

After Dr. Coleman's greeting the audience heard Mrs. Fankhauser, in well chosen words, express the true meaning of Old Glory. When she finished, beautiful American flags were presented to the new citizens as they stood in their reserved section. The benediction by the Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, adjourned the program.

The Y. W. C. A. seeks to contact each and every new citizen through this March ceremony. Ordinarily, a much larger representation of the group attends.

DALLAS, Tex., Mar. 10.—Gold held by individuals and banks is being turned into the Federal Reserve bank here in increasing amounts, according to Gov. McKimney.

DENVER, Mar. 10.—Joseph E. Olson, manager of the Federal Reserve bank here, said that a return flow of gold into the bank had not yet set in in this district.

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 10.—William McC. Martin, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of St. Louis announced today that within the last several days $636,000 worth of gold was returned from the Eighth Federal Reserve district.

ARGENTINE IMPORTED HALF OF FUEL ENERGY

(International News Service)
BUENOS AIRES—Argentina imports about half of its fuel energy, according to figures compiled by the Comite Nacional Argentino.

In 1930, importations accounted for about 59 per cent of the total supply, but fell to 53 per cent in 1931, totaling approximately 100,000,000 paper pesos, it was stated. Fuel commodities imported comprise coal, coke, crude petroleum, petroleum for combustibles, gasoline and kerosene.

Plan To Issue Bank Licenses

Banks Desiring To Re-open
Are To Make Application
For License

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Secretary of the Treasury Woodin announced today that an executive order or regulation will be issued shortly directing all member banks of the federal reserve system desiring to reopen for the performance of all usual and normal banking functions to apply for a license to the secretary of the treasury.

His announcement said: "Executive order or regulation will issue shortly directing all banks which are members of the federal reserve system desiring to reopen for the performance of all usual and normal banking functions except as otherwise prohibited to apply for a license to the secretary of the treasury, applications to be filed with the federal reserve bank in the appropriate district."

"The appropriate authority having immediate supervision of banking institutions in each state will be authorized under such regulations as such authority may prescribe to permit any banking institution in such state or place, other than member banks of the federal reserve system, to perform any or all of their usual banking functions except as otherwise prohibited."

The regulations under which the banks may re-open were being drawn at the treasury and will be issued soon as completed, probably this afternoon.

Indications that the treasury plans to keep a tight hand on the matter of re-opening was seen in that portion of Secretary Woodin's announcement relating to licensing. It was explained that before a bank could re-open it must have a license to do so from the treasury, which meanwhile will have assured itself of the bank's soundness.

Unsound banks, or those in the danger zone, presumably would not be licensed and thus would be unable to open, for congress granted the executive branch of the government dictatorial powers over the banks last night.

The police authorities of this city have been asked by the New York police department to attempt to locate relatives or friends of James Cassidy, who died in that city and whose body is being held at the New York City Mortuary, 29th street and First avenue, in that city for those interested in claiming the body. If any person here has knowledge of friends or relatives they are asked to get in touch with the city police.

RUMANIA MAKING PROGRESS IN RADIO

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON—Rumania is making progress in its plan to develop a radio broadcasting system, and that market promises to become increasingly important from the standpoint of American producers of radio equipment, according to the Commerce department.

Broadcasting is done by the Rumanian Radio Broadcasting company, operating a 12,000-watt station on 761 kilocycles near Bucharest.

The government owns 60 per cent of the stock of the company and controls its policies. In addition, it grants the company a $30,000 annual subsidy. Inasmuch as receipts from licenses and revenues from advertising virtually pay operating costs, the $30,000 is used almost exclusively for development of broadcasting facilities.

Hear Geneva Man At Peace Dinner

Dr. Coleman's Vivid Talk
Given At Y. W. C. A.;
Depression Is Theme

Faced with the tragic possibility of seeing a rapidly mounting body of American citizens assuming the attitude of paupers, instead of that of clear-thinking and responsible American citizens, the United States must immediately—and is starting to—take steps to set the wheels of industry in motion. Dr. John Coleman, professor of Bible and political science at Geneva college, Beaver Falls, told the Lawrence county unit, the National Council on the cause and cure of war, at a dinner in the Y. W. C. A. last night.

And Dr. Coleman, speaking the academic language of one remarkably schooled in current affairs, offered concrete ways by which the industrial stagnation might be stirred.

Admitting at the outset that no single, solitary remedy could be prescribed for the economic ills, the college professor acknowledged at the same time his inability to offer guaranteed cures for the world.

"Diagnosing the Depression" was Prof. Coleman's theme, and for almost an hour he spoke of the prevailing crises in industry and banking, now and then voicing his own opinions as to how perplexing problems might be solved.

The dinner of the war prevention group convened in the Y. W. C. A. room, with a large group of invited diners. Members of the Merry Circle, attired in the costumes of their native lands, served. Miss Alice Sterling handled arrangements.

Presiding as chairman was Dr. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church and chairman of the local peace unit. Invocation before the dinner was pronounced by him.

After the professor had traced the advance of American industry from the "want-economy" to the surplus-economy period, after he had pointed out that today's need is for consumption capital, not production capital, after he had told how we had reached a point in society where what is wise for the individual plant owner may be disastrous for the country, his eager audience asked questions of him to determine further information as to conditions.

Postal cards addressed to President Roosevelt, bearing the member's pledge of support to the new administration in its execution of the will of the U. S. senate in matters affecting the world court and Paris pact were signed. The Paris pact condemns recourse to war by any nation pledging adherence to it.

Dr. Coleman spoke after the peace group dinner to a foreign group newly recognized as American citizens, whom the Y. W. C. A. welcomed at an impressive, patriotic service in its auditorium.

HOOVER URGES FULL SUPPORT OF BANK MOVE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 10—President Roosevelt's emergency bank program today bore the approval of former President Herbert Hoover.

"There is just one thing to do," the former president said when questioned at his hotel here, "that is to support the president's proposal."

Through his program of rest and giving attention only to personal business, friends of Mr. Hoover said, he is beginning to be relieved of the fatigue he felt when he left the White House.

Small Boy Injured By An Automobile

X-Ray Pictures Have Been Taken To Determine Full Extent Of Injuries

E. M. Johnston, 612 Clayton St., was enroute west on Mahoning avenue Thursday on the Gardner avenue viaduct, when a small negro boy, Robert Doster, aged 8, of 202 Mahoning avenue, ran from one side of the viaduct in front of his machine.

Smoke from an engine on the tracks below the viaduct blinded Mr. Johnston, so that he did not see the boy in time to attempt to prevent the accident. He heard the boy yell and put on his brakes but not before the boy had been hit, and knocked to the sidewalk.

Mr. Johnston picked up the boy and took him to the New Castle hospital. He appeared to be hurt about one of his legs and an X-ray has been taken to determine the full extent of his injuries.

"MUST" VACCINATION SET FOR DIPHTHERIA

(International News Service)
PRAGUE—In a meeting of the budget commission of the Czechoslovak parliament, Dr. Spina, minister of health, declared Czechoslovakia will be the first country in the world to introduce compulsory vaccination against diphtheria.

The minister added that such a step is necessary, as diphtheria is spreading in Czechoslovakia at a frightful rate. In 1923 there were only 3,000 cases and in 1932 over 23,000 were reported.

Diphtheria is especially prevalent in Slovakia and Carpathian Ruthenia, the starvation centres of the Czechoslovak Republic.

Two Suspended Policemen Get Prison Terms

Two Brooklyn Policemen Get 5 To 20 Years On Kidnapping Charge

ACCOMPLISHES ALSO SENTENCED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Two suspended Brooklyn policemen today faced 5 to 20 year prison terms for the kidnaping of Ernest Schoening, reputed New Jersey rum racketeer, following pleas of guilty to reduced charges of attempted kidnaping. The policemen, John Nevins and Arthur Graef, were charged with abducting Schoening from the Brooklyn federal building in an attempt to collect $100,000 ransom from his family. Max Geller and Leon Gawelzyck, indicted with the officers, pleaded guilty to similar charges and received similar sentences. A fifth accomplice, Frank Miller, was sentenced to five years on a plea of guilty to second degree assault. The first trial of the five resulted in a mistrial when a juror dropped dead. In the second trial, ended by the guilty pleas, the defense contended Schoening paid the officers $600 to take his kidnaping and save him from a new Jersey rum gang seeking his life.

Beer Bill May Be Passed By New Congress

Indications Point To Passage Of 3.2 Beer Bill By March 20

WET LEADERS ACTIVE AGAIN

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—The 3.2 per cent beer bill, which failed in the "lame duck" session in the Senate, may be passed by the overwhelmingly wet house of the new congress on March 20, Democratic leaders said today.

House wet leaders announced they would stand by the 3.2 per cent of beer as provided in the bill drafted last winter. The Senate judiciary committee subsequently cut the percentage to 3.05 per cent.

Bills Introduced
Rep. Cullen of New York, assistant Democratic leader; Rep. O'Connor (D) of New York, leader of the "wet bloc" and others introduced bills on the opening day. O'Connor planned to make a fight to permit advertising of beer. The beverage will be legalized as non-intoxicating in fact and it would be foolish to prevent its advertisement he said.

Jesus Ministering To The Multitude

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text.

Matthew 20:28—"The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 12 is Mark 6:1-56, the Golden Text being Matt. 20:28, "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
In this lesson our Lord's 12 disciples are for the first time called "apostles," meaning "sent ones." They can now be so named because they have just returned from their first preaching mission upon which Jesus had sent them two by two with certain specific instructions.

They had seen Jesus manifest his divine power in every conceivable realm; they had followed him for about a year, listening to his gracious teachings, and just before starting upon their mission they had witnessed the strange paralysis of his power among his fellow townsmen of Nazareth, where he "could do no mighty work because of their unbelief."

In the meantime, Herod the king had shamefully murdered Jesus' forerunner, John the Baptist.

The Disturbed Rest
The 12 apostles returned from that preaching tour greatly elated over the success that attended them, but also greatly in need of physical rest and spiritual refreshment in fellowship with Jesus.

The "minutes" of their first meeting read as follows: "And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things both what they had done, and what they had taught. And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest awhile. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. And they departed into a desert place by ship privately."

But the news of their departure spread and before they had rowed the 10 or 12 miles to the quiet spot they had selected on the eastern shore of Galilee, the crowds had begun to gather from all the surrounding villages, "and outwent them." And he came forth and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things.

There is no trace of irritation at the disrupted plans for quiet and rest; there is only the tenderest sympathy and deepest understanding of the people's needs and a determination to meet those needs completely, both spiritually and physically.

The Adding Machine Complex
Towards evening the apostles began to sense the responsibility of holding the multitude, numbering many thousands of men, women and children, in this desert place too long unfed, and they urged him to dismiss them to buy bread for themselves. He amazed them by challenging them: "Give ye them to eat."

Immediately they began to calculate that $34 worth of bread would be scarcely more than a start. They were good at computing their material resources and requirements. In fact, they had the same "adding machine complex" from which we so often suffer. But adding machines have no key to press to bring God into the sum total, and no problem is solved correctly that leaves out God. They could add five loaves and two fishes, but they forgot to go on and say "plus Christ equals sufficient." Omitting Christ in their calculations they made the mistake we read in their words. "But what are these among so many?"

"Thou Preparest A Table Before Me"

But Jesus took their meager resources and prayerfully added heaven's divine blessing upon them and prepared a table before them at which he seated in orderly companies of fifties and hundreds a multitude of 5,000 men besides women and children. The fact that he has a heart for the hungry multitudes is disclosed by his compassion and action at this table in the wilderness. If men are hungry for food it is due to no lack of his provision, but rather to human selfishness or faulty distribution of God's abundant provision for all.

Pinchot Without Power To Remove Dr. Clyde King

Governor Is Absolutely Powerless To Dismiss Or Demote Dr. King

DR. KING HAS DISMISSAL POWER

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Defied by Dr. Clyde L. King, former political ally and intimate friend whom he appointed chairman of the public service commission, Governor Gifford Pinchot today was powerless to change the personnel of that body.

Although the commission ostensibly is Pinchot-controlled, the governor possesses no authority to dismiss any of the commissioners. The commission staff, except for three offices, is immune from the chief executive's control. The exceptions are the secretary, marshal, and investigator of accidents, chosen by a majority vote of the commission.

King Possesses Power
Dr. King, who can neither be demoted nor dismissed by the governor, otherwise possesses absolute dismissal powers. Even though the governor has four other personal appointees on the commission, this majority cannot remove any employee.

Since Dr. King assumed chairmanship of the commission last October, the personnel has changed slightly. Less than a dozen employees were dropped, while several were added to the payroll. A number of state employees in other departments of the government, however, are under the sponsorship of Dr. King. There is nothing to prevent the governor from making dismissals in these departments and bureaus under his control.

"TICK TOCK" KING GEORGE OWNS MORE THAN 1000 CLOCKS

(International News Service) LONDON.—King George, greatest clock collector in England, has more than a thousand of them scattered around Buckingham Palace and the various royal residences, but only 750 of these time-tickers keep approximately correct time during the winter.

The 250 incorrect ones are not more than ordinarily temperamental—they are merely half an hour fast from the months of October to March. These are the king's clocks at Sandringham, which by a whim of King Edward are kept a half hour ahead of Greenwich time. During a few months each summer they are advanced a half hour to match the summer time.

Pittsburgh May Start Scrip Use

Revive Program Which Was Believed Discarded On Thursday

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—Possibility that Pittsburgh bankers would revive their unofficially scrapped plan to issue Clearing House Certificates as a medium of exchange loomed today as telegraphic authority was sought from Washington to permit resumption of business.

Acting under Secretary of the Treasury Woodin's invitation for application to reopen, every local bank today planned to seek authority to end the holiday here tomorrow.

At the same time, it was indicated the Clearing House members may go ahead with their former plans to issue scrip, following receipt of information from Woodin that he was not opposed to issuance of money substitutes. Most of Pittsburgh's scrip already has been printed.

Liberty Goddess Needing Repairs

(International News Service) ALLENTOWN, Pa., Mar. 10.—The Goddess of Liberty, who lost an arm in high winds last year, will have to languish in the McDermott boiler factory for a while before returning to her perch atop the granite shaft of the Soldiers and Sailors monument in Allentown's center square.

County commissioners and city council have agreed to share the cost of replacing the arm. It will be necessary first to produce estimates of the cost and to take other formal steps before the replacement work can actually be undertaken.

(International News Service) NORRISTOWN, Mar. 10.—For injuries received when she was butted by a ram while gathering eggs on the farm of St. Helena's Catholic church, Centre Square, Miss Nora C. Connor, a maid, seeks compensation from the Rev. Francis E. Higgins, rector.

The woman avers the collecting of the eggs was part of her duties. She said the injuries, received last November, put her in a hospital for several weeks. T. Duncan Just, compensation referee, held the case under advisement.

Free Banking Is Resuming

New Executive Order Is Issued To Speed Up Re-opening

(BULLETIN) (International News Service) WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Partial resumption of free banking today and tomorrow, and in "substantial volume" by Monday, was ordered today by President Roosevelt when he signed an executive order giving the secretary of the treasury power to put the machinery for reopening into motion.

The White House announced that the treasury is dispatching telegrams to some banks this afternoon allowing them to resume their normal functions.

No announcement was made as to which institutions the telegrams are being sent or will be sent, but it was assumed that they were to those banks that have already petitioned the treasury for permission to reopen. The treasury has never announced how many of these there are, nor revealed their identity.

The purpose of the order, the White House announced, is to permit the reopening of national and state banks as quickly as possible so that they may exercise their functions to meet vital needs of the communities they serve.

He Ought To Be Proud Of His Car

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Mar. 10.—Dr. George W. Cochran, Erie's oldest dentist, is the proud possessor of a 1915 model automobile that still fairly "burns" up the road at 20 miles per hour. The ancient car has traveled more than 200,000 miles.

Scrip In Use In New Castle

Clearing House Certificates made their appearance in business houses today. Pay roll checks are being cashed by the banks payable in the certificates and these are being used as currency for the purchase of food, clothing, payment of utility bills and the usual other necessities of life.

The bills are issued by the New Castle Clearing House Association which is formed of the banks of New Castle. They are signed by Joel S. McKee as president and George A. Carpenter as secretary. Each bill is guaranteed by the securities of the banks in the Clearing House and are issued for ninety days.

Sale Of Sand Co. Property Stayed

Sheriff Frank Johnston Gets Official Notice Of Recent Moratorium

Upon receipt of a resolution passed by the state legislature relating to foreclosures on real estate and executions issued against personal property, Sheriff Frank Johnston announced this morning that there will be no more executions executed until April 3, the date when the moratorium expires. This will not interfere with real estate foreclosures as there are none scheduled before that date.

Sale of the Consumers Sand company property in Wilmington township, which was scheduled to be held on March 15, has been postponed until the moratorium expires. The sheriff's office has been kept very busy serving papers on writs issued against personal property, but there will now be a let up until after April 3.

Bring Out Gold To Get Learning

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 10.—If for nothing else, gold is coming out of hiding to purchase education. More than 200 pieces have been paid to the Bursar of Temple University in tuition fees. It was revealed with the closing of the student registration period.

The influx of gold indicates, according to Millard E. Gladfelter, registrar, that the students are drawing upon their savings to pay for their education.

One Woman's Idea Of Prohibition

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—Times would not be what they are had prohibition not been enacted, Mrs. Sarah Gow Hay declared on her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary. "I believe," she said, "if the saloons had stayed open we never would have had such a depression. Mrs. Hay said she was employed in the homes of saloonkeepers and "used to think it was terrible" when workmen instead of going straight home would stop for drinks. "Now I wouldn't mind it," she continued. "At least those men were coming from their work—something many of them are not doing now."

Barred From Show By Pint Of Liquor

(International News Service) NANTICOKE, Pa., Mar. 10.—Because he imbibed too freely of the contents of a pint, Henry Brunn, 28, of Benton, missed viewing the inauguration ceremonies in Washington.

Brunn, finding the local banks closed when he arrived in Nanticoke to deposit a sum of money, decided instead to board a train to Washington.

Finding time heavy on his hands as he awaited the train, Brunn purchased a pint of wine and drank freely. He landed in a cell at police headquarters instead of at the nation's capital.

For buckles and brooches for dress decoration nothing is smarter this spring than nacre (mother of pearl) and shell.

Friday evening under the leadership

the boys who accompanied related the following:"After breakfast at Hotel Winston I proceeded to the capitol. I stood near the lane for the special automobiles going to the capitol building and saw the notables while past;
then amid a loud burst of cheering
the two presidents and their wives swept past with the splendid cavalry escort charging before."Everybody was crowded toward the speakers stand and I was caught in the mad rush. Very soon it became so serious that many persons became sick and one woman suddenly fainted and it took over a halfhour to get her out of the jam to an ambulance. After she was spirited away I edged my way within 400 feet of the inaugural stand, and when the oath of office was administered to President Roosevelt I saw and heard every word. After the inaugural speech I watched the parade and such celebrities as Al Smith, Gov.

people formed a most colorful sight."After supper at the hotel the par-

Approaches RapidlyIt'll Be "The Wearin' Of The Green" For Irish Week
From TodayMarch 17, or St. Patrick's day, is the day when all good Irishmen honor Ireland's patron saint by the "wearing of the green". The date and place of St. Patrick's birth has never been determined, some historians maintaining that he was born either in 373 or 389 in one of two countries, Scotland or Brittany.
When a youth of 16, St. Patrick was carried away to Ireland by pirates and became a slave for six or seven years. He finally effected his escape, and after going to France entered a monastery. While living here he was ordered in a vision to return to Ireland and become a missionary of Christianity. He obeyed and returned to Ireland, converted the inhabitants, each and everyone, within 33 years.Probably the most common and the best known legend concerning St. Patrick is the tale of how he charmed the snakes of Ireland and enticing them to the sea, drove them in and drowned them. Whether this be true or not who can say? It is enough to say that St. Patrick's day is the time to show everybody
what a good Irishman you are.KOMARC TO HEAD

If it were not for reports high school would be a Utopia for the youth of America. About the first of the report period everything runs smoothly with only a faint shadow in the background. As time goes on this cloud grows blacker until the fateful day arrives. More midnight oil is burned than at any other time.
What with notebooks that haven't even been started and tests about things that you don't know anything about, it's a wonder the students live through this six times a year.
But it doesn't last long and we are once more back in that blissful state
when grades are only a faint shadow far in the background.
Reports were carried at the high

Senior high school students held a pep chapel Thursday with their

It stirred enthusiasm for tonight's

Coach Bridenbaugh, who spoke with Principal Orth, expressed the belief that Norwin is a good, all-around team, and warned the Ne-Ca-Hi basketball players and students against over-confidence.
Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner reminded the school that it's been school support that has helped to carry the high school team to the rung in the W. P. A. L. ladder it occupies, and he asked that they continue to give it.Manager Bob Howe and several team members responded when called to hold with senior high school students on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, were listed today by John Stump, president of the Senior Hi-Y club, the sponsoring organization.Stump's explanation for the 20-minute personal contacts was:

1—To see if the boy has ability for that profession. To see if he is really interested.
2—To see if he is taking the right
subjects in fitting himself for his vocation and college.
3—To encourage him in his weak subjects.4—To help him get established and be of service to some church and Sunday school.
5—To give him a general outline of the work he wants to engage his life in.6—To help the vocational guidance teacher of the school.
7—To give the boy a greater and broader view of life and to contact him with clean, Christian business and professional men, and who can be a help to him.UNION HIGH

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

COMMUNITY MEETING

Two topics of interest to farm folks will be discussed at a meeting in Mt. Hope school, Wayne township Tuesday evening, March 14 at 8:00 o'clock.

The chief discussion will be "Lime as a Factor in Soil Fertility." Farmers are invited to bring samples of soil to this meeting to be analyzed for lime requirement.

4-H Club work in agriculture will also be discussed. Plans will be made to organize a 4-H Club in this community for work during the summer.

GARDENS PRODUCE FOOD FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

Town gardeners, as well as farmers, are planning this year to supply part of the family food needs with home-grown vegetables.

Fresh vegetables may be harvested from the garden starting in May and continuing until freezing weather in the fall. The surplus may be canned, dried or stored to be used until the following season.

Among the best food producing crops are beans, cabbage, Swiss chard, lettuce, beets, carrots, turnips and tomatoes. Endive, spinach, kale, kohlrabi, peppers and radishes may be included. Peas, sweet corn, pole beans, and squash are desirable for the large garden.

The cash investments in a garden include soil preparation by digging or plowing, fertilizer, seed, hoe, rake and a garden line. Seed and fertilizer may be purchased cooperatively at 50 cents to $1.00 to each for a 50 by 100 foot garden.

Further detail on growing vegetables for the family to eat may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Association office.

CURE BROWN ROT TO PREVENT PEACH LOSS

Brown rot, a fungus disease of the peach, annually causes heavy losses to growers in all parts of the state.

Brown rot, in addition to causing peaches to rot before picking, is more destructive after the peaches are picked and are in transit or on the market. It also causes leaf and twig infections which may develop into limb cankers. Additional damage is done when as high as 80 per cent of the blossoms become diseased under favorable conditions for infection.

The mummified fruits which carry the spores of brown rot should be pruned off the trees and those on the ground plowed under or cultivated. Early twig infection can be checked with a dormant spray of bordeaux mixture, and a lime-sulphur spray about one month before picking followed by a sulphur dust applied just before harvesting has proved important in preventing rot in storage and transit.

A demonstration on Elberta peaches in Adams county last year showed that there was no spraying before harvest there was 5.5 per cent brown rot at picking time and 60 per cent developed during three days of storage. Spraying with self-boiled lime-sulphur reduced the disease present at picking to three-tenths of one per cent and the amount of brown rot developing in three days storage to 29 per cent. Where dust was applied just before picking the brown rot developed in storage was only 15 per cent.

FLOWER GARDENERS HAVE WORK TO DO

Several tasks can be done by flower gardeners this month.

Hardy annuals, such as verbenas, ageratum, snapdragons, and phlox drummondii, can be sown in the hot bed.

Pruning of honeysuckle, trumpet vine, clematis and rambler and briars should be done now.

Sweet peas can be sown March 17 and later.

Where the facilities permit, seeds of musty miller, delphinium, verbenas, lobelia, celosia and varieties of salvia can be sown in flats or pots indoors.

If the weather is warm during the latter part of the month protective mulch material can be removed gradually from the perennial and bulb beds and from evergreen trees and shrubs.

LULL IN FEUD BETWEEN PINCHOT AND KING

Wordy Battle At Harrisburg

Governor And Public Service Commission Involved In Controversy

LONG FRIENDSHIP APPARENTLY AT END

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—With a lull in the crossfire between Gov. Pinchot and Dr. Clyde L. King, Capitol Hill today viewed the governor's accusations, in the light of King's reply, as an indictment of the entire public service commission.

Clearly, the statement of each was a challenge to the other, and political circles eagerly awaited an expression from the rest of the Pinchot-appointed commission as the next significant development in the feud.

Governor Pinchot's declaration that the usefulness of Dr. King as commission chairman "is at an end" was based on the latter's testimony before the senate utilities investigating committee.

King's answer was: "I gave no testimony not previously unanimously endorsed by every member of the commission."

Unless repudiated by the other commissioners, that reply converts the governor's views into a blanket attack upon all members of the commission, the majority of whom are administration appointees and include P. S. Stahlnecker, confidential aide of Pinchot for 25 years.

Apparently terminating the friendship of the two was the senate probe of the utilities, Governor Pinchot charging that Dr. King "has created the widespread impression that he is against continuing the investigation and for shielding the utilities."

Open Breach.
An analysis of Dr. King's statement and its implications led to the belief that an open breach between the governor and his other commission appointees is looming, if the split does not already exist. The doctor referred to the commission as including three "former" personal friends of the governor. He refused to amplify the statement. Speculation was rife as to whom among the Pinchot appointees had fallen into the classification of "former personal friends" of the governor.

Besides Dr. King and Stahlnecker, the men named to the public service body by Governor Pinchot are George W. Woodruff, Frederick P. Gruenberg and C. Jay Goodenough.

The understanding was quite general today that Dr. King may legally continue in office until the expiration of his term in 1937 unless the senate specifically decrees otherwise. In the absence of a formal opinion from the attorney general, this belief was based upon the supreme court decision a few years ago in the case of James S. Bann, whom Governor Pinchot in his first administration removed as a public service commissioner. The court returned Bann and decreed that the senate's consent was necessary for removal. Pinchot, however, previously has gone to the trouble of formally re-appointing commissioners after the senate had adjourned a session without acting upon the appointments. ostensibly on the basis that their terms had automatically expired with the adjournment.

Can't Demote Dr. King

HARRISBURG, Mar. 10.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot is powerless to demote Dr. Clyde L. King from the chairmanship of the Public Service Commission just as he is prevented from removing him entirely from the commission, Attorney General William A. Schneider said today.

As to whether Dr. King's appointment would automatically expire with assembly adjournment if the senate failed to confirm him Schneider said it is still a moot question.

When the senate failed to confirm commissioners Woodruff and Gruenberg at the last special session, the governor formally re-appointed them and Schneider said this was done on his advice.

The attorney general's views leave unsettled the question of whether Dr. King may continue on the commission after the legislature adjourns. He was appointed for the term ending in 1937.

Confirmation by the senate, of course, would remove all doubt.

Red Cross Board Hears Reports

Activities Of Local Chapter Usually Heavy During Month Of February

REQUISITION FOR MORE FLOUR PLACED

Activities were unusually heavy with the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, during February, the reports submitted to the board at their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, showed.

There were 9,343 sacks of flour distributed throughout the county, making a total distribution to date of 108,167 sacks. Requisition for the next three month supply, has already been placed with the National Red Cross, asking for an additional amount above what has been furnished in the past, the request for flour having increased during the past quarter.

Miss Kathryn A. Hite, chapter nurse, reported 108 visits to homes during the month in the interests of nursing service and investigations. In addition more than 50 hours was spent in the office assisting in the distribution of clothing and other relief work. Sixteen layettes were furnished during the month.

Report of Mrs. David Kay of the Red Cross garment committee, showed a distribution of 4,094 garments during the month. There were 1,164 requests for garments. Ralph F. Davis, chairman of the first aid committee, reported that a class of 33 men is taking an advanced course in first aid work at the Pennsylvania Power Company, who will conclude their lessons in April. In addition, a class for women was started last evening.

MISSION APPEALS FOR FAMILIES HIT BY MERCURY DROP

Coal stoves, bedding and used clothing.

For these three living necessities the demand at the City Rescue Mission has never been greater than it was today, according to Superintendent B. J. Watkins, who addressed another appeal to the New Castle public as the mercury slipped down toward zero again.

"We can't meet the demand with our present supply," Mr. Watkins declared. "It's forced several families to give up homes." "We're doing the best we can—we hope the public makes a response to our call."

Marshal Change Is Leaving China For European Voyage

Former War Lord Of Manchuria Resigns All Important Posts In Chinese Army

(International News Service)
PEIPING, March 10.—Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, former war lord of Manchuria and more recently commander of the Northern Chinese armies, informed International News Service tonight that the Central government has accepted his resignation from all his official posts.

"From tonight onward I am a private citizen," he said. "Tomorrow I shall fly to Shanghai and sail from there for Europe immediately." Chang's announcement confirmed exclusive information by International News Service months ago that he would flee from China and take up residence in Europe if his efforts to stem the Japanese advance in Manchuria failed.

No Money Orders To Foreign Lands

But All Domestic Money Orders Will Be Paid Without Delay

POSTMASTER IS GIVEN DIRECTIONS

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—The United States Post Office Department has just sent to the postmaster of New Castle a communication authorizing him to pay without delay all properly executed money orders.

While the department has notified postmasters that the embargo on gold will prevent issuance of money orders for payment in any foreign country, postal officials have decided that business in domestic money orders shall go forward as usual. The department has therefore instructed the local postmaster to continue to issue domestic money orders and to promptly cash all such orders drawn on his office.

The department has issued these special orders concerning money orders with the hope of relieving to a degree the embarrassment resulting from the restricted bank operations.

The department has also authorized postmasters to accept checks tendered in payment for postage stamps and other stamped paper and for postage on matter of the several classes mailed without stamps.

Chinese Showing New Resistance

Renewal Of Sino-Japanese Hostilities Expected Near Great Wall

JAPANESE LINES ARE ENDANGERED

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Mar. 10.—Increased Chinese resistance near Kupei Pass at the Great Wall may signalize new Sino-Japanese hostilities, with the Japanese attacking from Shan-hai-kwan, reports from the North China battle front said today.

The Japanese position is endangered, according to the reports, by concentration of 50,000 crack troops commanded by General Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese commander-in-chief, between Kupei Pass and Peiping. Advice that the Chinese are ready to launch an attempt to recapture Jehol City and regain the lost province caused military officials here to predict Japanese troops from Shan-hai-kwan would attack the Chinese from the rear.

This may be followed, they declared, by invasion of the Peiping-Tientsin area.

Volant P. T. A. To Meet Monday

An entertainment will be furnished by the high school students.

A great soul ought to be more sensible of benefits than affronts.

With New Hope and Confidence, We Say "On with the New Deal!"

The President's Inaugural message and His Promise to the American People and the way he has taken command during the present crisis has stirred our imagination, inspired new hope and restored confidence in ourselves, in our city, and in our nation. It heartens us to believe we can look forward hopefully to some relief from our reverses, and the loss of confidence which have stalked us for nearly four years. To be sure, there was good reason for this readjustment period which we are passing through, but there is no sound reason, of which we know, that can be given for its intensity or its duration, other than the LOSS OF CONFIDENCE. Our faith is still supreme that New Castle and our nation will rise from these disillusionments and disappointments, to more prosperous days; perhaps, than we have yet known. It has been the history of other like periods.

Diamonddeers A-Milking

Strange that the hand which can strike terror into the heart of a batter can be so gentle that the patient bovine makes not the slightest protest as she is milked by Lefty Gomez, crack south-paw pitcher of the New York Yankees. Lefty is shown as he earned his coffee and cakes as guest of Herb Penneck, his Yankee teammate, at the latter's farm in Kennett Square, Pa. They're awaiting the call to Spring training.

AVERAGE MOVIE STAR WEIGHS LESS THAN 110 POUNDS,

HAS GREENISH-BLUE EYES, BROWN, BLOND OR RED HAIR

The average motion picture star weighs exactly 109 pounds, 14 ounces; is five feet three and one-third inches tall; has greenish-blue eyes with a golden glint, and either brown, ash blond or auburn hair, according to Fred Datig, casting director. Following are statistics for eight of them, reading from left to right: Marlene Dietrich, 5.5 tall, 120 pounds, blue eyes, blond hair; Nancy Carroll, 5.4, 116 pounds, blue eyes, red hair; Claudette Colbert, 5.5, 112 pounds, brown eyes, black hair; inset, Miriam Hopkins, 5.2, 105 pounds, gray eyes, blond hair; Carole Lombard, 5.4, 112 pounds, blue eyes, blond hair; Sari Maritza, 5.1½, 103 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair; inset, Mae West, 5.1, 114 pounds, blue eyes, blond hair; right, Sylvia Sydney, 5.4, 104 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair. Orange juice for breakfast, salad and sandwich for lunch, lamb chops or roast for dinner is the diet which keeps the average screen actress fit. And she goes to four movies a week.

Mosaic of F. D. R. in Marble

Centuries before the jig-saw puzzle was ever heard of, the ancients were creating magnificent pictures, such as the fine photo of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt shown here, in mosaic work. This picture is the work of Anthony Hibar, an unemployed artist, who put 66,000 pieces of Italian marble in nine colors into the masterpiece. It took Hibar seven months to complete the difficult job in his garage workshop in New York.

EASTER BRINGS PLENTY OF VARIETY IN MILADY'S CHAPEAU WITH MORE THAN HINT OF GAY NINETIES

There is plenty of variety in milady's new Easter bonnet this year, and with more than a hint of the fashions of the gay nineties. At the left is a tiny black and white straw turban trimmed with birds; second, above, a turban of violets; below, is modern version of the sailor of the 90's with veil that comes under the chin, fourth, a tailored little hat of cired straw with a veil. Billie Dove, next, is wearing a dull surfaced corded silk hat with a decided tilt, with band and bow of feathers, and a short veil. Below, is an old-time sailor with the type of veil used to tie it on when automobile riding first became stylish. Second from the

More than a century old and still going strong—that's the story of this first dormitory for co-eds west of the Alleghenies. Situated on the campus of Denison university at Granville, O., the building was erected in 1831 to serve

Game Birds Are Wintering Fine At Jordan Farm

Construction Of New Incubator System Is Now Underway

BIRDS FOUND TO BE FREE OF ALL DISEASE

The 2,000 Ringnecks, Reeves, and fancy pheasants, held as breeding stock at the Jordan State Game Farm, near Harlansburg, are wintering in fine condition and it is expected that the approaching season will be one of high production. During the first three days of this month a representative of the State Department of Agriculture was at the farm conducting a blood test of the birds for Bacillary white diarrhea, or Pullorum disease. All the birds that could be trapped during those three days, totaling 1758, were tested, without finding a single infected bird.

Improvements Underway
Proposed improvements at the farm, which were mentioned in The News some time ago are now under way as fast as weather will permit. The proposed incubator house is now under construction and a 16,000 egg incubator and 50 colony brooder houses have been ordered for the farm.

Birds to be used as breeding stock will be placed in the laying pens the latter part of this month and will be fed a special pheasant egg producing ration. The birds usually begin laying early in April and reach the peak of production during May. Last year with 1300 hen pheasants in the laying fields the average daily production for the month of May was 953 eggs, with a total of a few over 55,000 for the season. Many of the eggs are shipped to State Game Refuges and interested sportsmen for hatching, the birds raised from these eggs must all be released on land that is not posted against hunting.

Eggs Are Not Sold

No eggs or stock are sold from the farm as it is operated for the purpose of producing game birds for release in hunting territory and is supported by the hunters' license money exclusively. As the game fund receives no money whatever from the general tax payer, nor any other source except the hunter or those occupied in fur or game farming, taxidermy or dealing in raw furs for which special licenses are required, all these operations coming under the regulations pertaining to the protection of game and fur bearing animals.

Visitors are welcomed at the state game farms at all times and employees will endeavor to make visits to the farm as instructive and entertaining as possible.

Good Scores In Bowling Congress

(International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 10.—Inaugurated with pomp and ceremony, the 33rd annual renewal of the American Bowling Congress championships were under way here today for a 31-day session.

The tournament was formally opened last night when Governor George White and Mayor Henry W. Worley heaved the first balls down two of the 28 alleys. The governor's pitch jumped into a side lane, while Mayor Worley's ball nipped the seven pin. Both officials however, scored strikes—a phenomenon explainable only by the pin boys.

Following the formalities, 56 Columbus booster teams took charge and began pounding the alleys with a vengeance. The top-notchers of the night's work was the Columbus Dispatch No. 1 team which rolled 831.929 and 886 to take the lead in the five-man event.

Municipal teams will continue the onslaught against the ten pins tonight.

THE DEEPEST SOB

With the all-American football selections completed, recognition should now be given to the coach who told the gloomiest football story—Roanoke Times.

Conference On Welfare Work

Hundred And Fifty Persons Attend Sessions At The Christian Church

PROBLEMS OF DAY ARE DISCUSSED

County welfare conference held Thursday at the First Christian Church under the supervision of the department of public welfare of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, in conjunction with the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, with approximately 150 men and women in attendance.

Outstanding in the discussion groups was that on "Unemployment Relief," in which Mrs. Nettie G. Matheny, member of the Lawrence county emergency relief board, acted as chairman and in which H. A. Waldkoenig, western Pennsylvania representative of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, was the leader.

Discussion was quite general in this group. Among the leaders in the general discussion were James K. Love, chairman of the mayor's relief committee; Spencer Gordon, head of the Erie district or division of the state emergency relief organization; Dr. C. B. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church; Mrs. S. D. Pearson, president of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, and others.

In this discussion the question of commissary method of distribution was compared with the general distribution method employed here. The question of continuing an advisory board such as the county emergency relief board for the control and distribution of relief in good times as well as in times of distress was shown to be a possibility of the future. There was also brought out the possible need of thinking of the protection of the landlord as well as the grocer and other merchants in giving of assistance, which was shown as one of the problems of the immediate future. It was also brought out that under state relief what are known as county doctors—that is physicians appointed by and paid by the state—are permissible. They would meet the need of the needy for the care of a physician beyond that possible for the county poor physician to give. All these and other matters were brought out and thoroughly discussed.

In the discussion of child welfare problems Dr. Mary J. Baker, director of health in the public schools of the city, presided. Due to the inability of Miss Margaret M. Swiggard, bureau of children, State Department of Welfare, Harrisburg, to attend and act as leader, H. A. Waldkoenig acted in that capacity. In his remarks Mr. Waldkoenig discussed the subject of the dependent and abandoned child, stressing the fact that foster home care is preferable to institutional care. A short discussion of local conditions ensued, in which many participated and during which some very interesting local problems were considered.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne presided at the discussion group considering juvenile delinquency and juvenile courts. Curtis A. Williams, Pennsylvania committee on penal affairs of the Public Charities Association, was the leader and made a most instructive talk on juvenile courts and the methods employed in various institutions for the care and correction of juvenile delinquents. He suggested that a proper home atmosphere would in most instances make juvenile courts and institutions for the care of juvenile delinquents largely unnecessary. Mayor Mayne spoke of what is being done in this district for the juvenile delinquents and a general discussion followed in which local problems of this kind were considered at some length.

The discussion groups prevailed in various sections of the conference from two to four o'clock. The conference opened at 12 o'clock, noon, with a delightful luncheon, served in the dining room of the church by the ladies of section one of the church, of which Mrs. W. R. Hanna is chairlady. Mrs. H. K. Bell, chairlady of the department of public welfare of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, presided at its inception. The event was opened with the singing of America, with Mrs. John McNeil leading the singing and Mrs. Jay L. Reed acting as accompanist.

Dr. C. B. Bennett, pastor of the conference church, then pronounced the blessing. After the luncheon had been completed Mrs. Bell in brief remarks expressed appreciation of the department at the manner in which those present had responded and made the event a success, and then introduced Mrs. Roy Long as conference chairman for the department of public welfare.

Mrs. Long welcomed the large and representative gathering and then explained the purpose of the conference and the functions of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania. She then introduced Dr. Mildred Rogers of this city, who spoke most interestingly on the subject, "Need for Welfare Legislation." Her remarks were timely and most instructive. Mrs. Long then introduced H. A. Waldkoenig, representative of the Public Charities Association, the concluding speaker of the luncheon program. Registration of those present took place after the luncheon and prior to the luncheon program.

The various discussion groups followed the luncheon and accompanying program.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

For a couple of days it began to appear as though Harold Baer had either lost his fountain pen or run out of stamp money. Not a line. And then suddenly they began drifting through, one from Naples and today's card is from Tunis.

Pompeii, Carthage, Tunis, and then a boat for the Holy Land. What a tough way to spend this weather. By the time their trip is over, the winter will be over here, the bank holiday will be over, the basketball season will be over and a lot of checking accounts will be over-drawn.

floating power or stream line brakes or something and have been waiting to get a shot at the Bridenbaugh machine.

And so just for that we'll drop around to the Pitt stadium tonight and get an eyeful of this team from Norwin. Maybe they're good, maybe they are very good, but upsetting teams that are very good has been a major sport with P. H. B. for some little time. Don't bet anything more valuable than a bunch of cancelled checks that New Castle won't win.

One anxious correspondent writes in to ask if a gold collar button would be considered as hoarding, and will there be a tax upon it. No Phineas, gold collar buttons aren't considered as hoarding, probably because most gold collar buttons are brass.

The nice thing about this new deal in bank control is that there will be no need for the old family sock as a bank in the future, and using a coffee pot or a sugar bowl will be strictly declassé. Anybody who does will simply be inviting plenty of trouble.

As you may have gathered, the Poet Laureate of the Slippery Rock is fairly regular with his contributions lately. Spring must be coming out that way, or else he has been eating a lot of horse radish.

Franco-Italian Differences Are Being Ironed Out

(International News Service) GENEVA, Mar. 10.—Desire to settle Franco-Italian differences, tying Italy into the Franco-British alliance, lies behind the trip of Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain to Paris and Geneva, according to reports in well-informed political circles today.

It was pointed out achievement of this aim would upset the lately re-established pre-war balance of power in Europe.

Experts here also declared the British statesman still hopes for a continental disarmament accord based on a Franco-German understanding, despite widespread pessimism on this point.

Local Concern Buys American Goods To Sell

Is Absolutely In Favor Of The Movement To Make American Workman Busy

Products made by American Workman are essential to the business life of this community and this country, if there is to be a return of prosperous conditions. American dollars should be spent in their purchase, so that there will be a continued demand for these products, which make work for American men and mean much in the material prosperity of this country.

Most business houses of this city realize this condition and are making every effort to stimulate the sale of American made goods in preference to those made in foreign countries.

The Atkinson Paint and Glass Company is one of the outstanding concerns of the city in this movement for "Buy American." W. H. Atkinson of this concern today voiced the stand of its concern in this matter. He said:—"We are absolutely one hundred percent in favor of the 'Buy American' movement sponsored by the American Legion. All products made by Americans represent the best in materials and workmanship and they mean employment for American workmen.

"When Americans learn to appreciate their products, especially in the paint line, then we will leave the depression behind. Colors in domestic paints are an example of what Americans can do. They are superior to any obtainable anywhere. This store aims to buy and sell American products at all times."

When we all get to buying American made goods, then we will be able to chase away the spirit of depression, says the American Legion.

Community Markets Being Established

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Pa. Mar. 10.—Adrian J. Collins, Erie, executive director of the Erie county emergency relief board, today assumed charge of the installation of community markets.

Collins, who will serve without salary, has been chiefly instrumental in establishing the Erie community market.

If the adults of today were all as good as they claim when they were young, what a wonderful place this must have been.
